Annual Report of the Office of Insurance Commissioner
Covering Events and Activities From
July 1, 1979 through June 30, 1980

Health Care Service Contractors

In 1979, Health Care Service Contractors operating in Washington increased their enrollment from 2,434,170 insureds to 2,455,627. Their premium income during this time increased from $473,432,198 to $536,126,266 while claims paid increased from $406,712,359 to $473,871,323. One health care service contractor (Inland Health Association located in Deer Park, Washington) became insolvent and was purchased by another organization. This purchase was overseen by the Commissioner's Office to be certain those enrolled in the insolvent plan were able to have all or most of their coverage continue with the new organization.

Another health care service contractor voluntarily went out of business in 1979. Two new HCSCs received Certificates of Registration from the Commissioner's Office during that time.

Health Maintenance Organizations

Health Maintenance Organizations in Washington decreased from five to four in 1979 (Sound Health Association of Tacoma went out of business, with the Group Health Cooperative of Puget Sound taking on their members). However, the number of people enrolled in such programs increased from 292,010 to 319,400.

These HMOs increased the amount of premium taken in from $101,186,427 to $118,918,523. Claims paid increased from $82,329,520 to $105,447,701 during this same period.

Public Insurance Forums

In an ongoing effort to provide consumers with educational and troubleshooting services, Commissioner Marquardt scheduled public insurance forums several times during fiscal 1979. The forums, usually held at shopping malls or other public gathering places, featured insurance experts ready to answer questions and help solve problems and a number of consumer brochures for those who wanted to take something home with them. The experts on hand would also help people review and understand their insurance policies.

Forums were held at Northgate (Seattle), Olympia's Capital Mall, the Tacoma Mall, and the Yakima Mall; with literally hundreds of consumers visiting the Commissioner's experts for help, advice, or simply to ask a question.

Generally, the experts attending the forums provide information and assistance regarding homeowners, auto, life, health, and Medicare supplement insurance.

Senior Health Insurance Benefits Advisors (SHIBA)

The SHIBA program expanded its scope and contacts during fiscal 1979 with Commissioner Marquardt appointing a full time Deputy Commissioner for Senior Programs, who developed new SHIBA programs in 16 locations around the state. Additionally, the existing SHIBA programs were visited and additional training provided for volunteers.

SHIBA is a program, created by Commissioner Marquardt, where senior citizens and other volunteers are taught how to help their friends and neighbors with questions and problems relating to Medicare supplement or Medigap insurance. The Commissioner's Office usually sets up classes in existing senior centers or similar locations, and provides the training (and refresher courses) to the people who will go out into the community to provide assistance. The volunteers work with their peers and are trained to refer the complicated or really severe problems to the Commissioner's Office for action.

SHIBA programs are now active in Blaine, Lynden, Ferndale, Bellingham, Anacortes, Mount Vernon, Burlington, Sedro Woolley, Everett, Marysville, Snohomish, Lynnwood, Edmonds, Monroe, Bellevue, Kirkland, Tacoma, Parkland, Puyallup, Lacey, Olympia, Tumwater, Shelton, Aberdeen Cosmopolis, Montesano, Westport, Moclips, Illwaco, Long Beach, Vancouver, Camas, Washougal, Stevenson, Hazel Dell, Woodland, Battle Ground, Ellensburg, Yakima, Selah, Fruitland, Wapato, Richland, Pasco, Kennewick, Prosser, Spokane, Opportunity, Medical Lake, Moses Lake, Warden, Othello, Quincy, Ephrata, Soap Lake, Oak Harbor and Coupeville. The program has reached approximately 12,000 seniors who needed help with Medigap insurance. Currently there are about 300 volunteers participating in SHIBA programs.

Insurance Licensing - A step toward automation.

1979 found the Insurance Commissioner's Office moving from a manual system of licensing agents, brokers, and other insurance professionals to a computerized record keeping and licensing system.

This change involved, among other things, changing the system of renewing agents' licenses. The old system provided for renewing property/casualty agents April 1 and life/disability agents October 1. This system created two peak workload periods.

The new computerized system allows for renewals to be coordinated with the agent's birthdate so there is no peak renewal period. Further, the birthdate renewal is easier for the agent to remember and anticipate.

Late in 1979 the groundwork for the licensing changes began. Computer terminals were installed (the system was connected to the state's computer bank) and information previously kept on cards and manually updated was reviewed and put into the computer.

The system is designed to handle an increasing workload on a more timely basis and to provide agents with faster service, uniform licensing system and a more efficient operation.

Under the new system all agents received a "qualification license" showing each line of insurance for which they have passed an examination. Following the implementation of the department's Continuing Education Regulation, the agents must show they have met continuing education requirements before a license can be renewed.

Continuing Education

Following a 1978 legislative mandate to develop continuing education requirements for insurance professionals and a record keeping system to monitor the progress of licensees, the Commissioner's Office initiated several new efforts.

First, continuing education criteria were developed with the help of a blue ribbon committee selected by Commissioner Marquardt to provide volunteer expertise. Secondly, hearings and public meetings provided an opportunity for insurance professionals around the state to comment on the proposals. These people, the agents and brokers who have to meet these requirements, provided comments that ultimately led to refinement of the continuing education proposals.

By April 1980 the continuing education requirements were in place and a system for registering completed hours with the Commissioner's Office had been established.

The ultimate goal of the education effort, according to Commissioner Marquardt, is to increase the skill level of people who are and will continue to serve the public.

Receiverships

H & A Associates, Inc. - Was a surplus line insurance broker based in Tacoma, with affiliated companies in Idaho, Oregon and operations in Alaska. During 1979, the Commissioner's Office discovered this broker had undertaken the functions of an insurance company without appropriate licenses. The Washington Insurance Code provides that the Commissioner may be appointed receiver of companies purporting to act as insurers within the state without appropriate authorization.

On December 5, 1979, the Commissioner was appointed receiver. At that time, the records of the corporation indicated $130,964.82 in assets and $315,470.32 in liabilities.

As receiver, the Commissioner has been marshalling the assets of the corporation and attempting to determine the validity of claims against the company.

As of July 31, 1980, assets totaled $301,234.46 and liabilities were $464,498.35. The increase in assets and liabilities from the first accounting is due, in part, to changes in reporting methods.

When claims against H & A filed by insurance companies are reconciled, a proposal for an initial distribution of assets will be filed by the receiver.

Employee Security Benefit Association - This company was an unincorporated firm with a home office in Washington State. It was selling medical insurance throughout the nation, purportedly under the authority of the Federal Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974. They had no license from Washington or any other state. On March 8, 1978, Commissioner Marquardt was appointed receiver of the association to wind up the company's affairs.

The association was not an authorized insurer under the Washington Insurance Code, so the state's guaranty association provisions were not applicable to the organization. Individuals with claims for benefits could look only to the assets of the association for payment. Upon taking control of the association, the receiver terminated coverages under the associations certificates and arranged to move certificate holders, at their option, to authorized insurance companies.

As receiver, the Commissioner took possession of assets totaling $798,536.00. Following a petition for partial distribution of assets, the Commissioner's Office was able to pay expenses of the receivership in the amount of $71,711.36 and had an income of $6,258.42 during that period. At this time, it was determined that $583,118.22 was available for immediate distribution to former certificate holders of the association. That amount provided for a distribution of 45 percent of each claim.

Following the initial distribution to preferred creditors, the office worked to reduce the assets of the receivership to cash. In addition, as Receiver, the Commissioner's Office defended a number of suits against the receivership arising out of denied claims. Further, the Receiver pursued litigation against the previous operations of the association on certain claims thereby recovering $50,000 from those individuals.

At this point, the activity in the receivership has been reduced to defense of a single claim for benefits. As receiver, the office is prepared to distribute the remaining assets, following certain legal procedures.

Assets available for distribution total $4,592.06, and remaining liability for unpaid preferred claims total $744,333.52. There are no funds available for payment of any general creditor's claims.

The receiver will be able to pay about 25 percent of the remaining unpaid preferred claims. This will result in a return to priority creditors of approximately 59.5 percent of each claim. Priority creditors are those with claims for benefits or return premium.

Rainier National Life - Receivership

Receivership of Rainier National Life remained open pending the resolution of ownership questions involving property shown on the company books.

Federal Old Line Insurance Company - Receivership

This receivership began in December 1966. During fiscal 1979, a number of law suits commenced early and the receivership continued. In February 1978 a final judgment against Federal Old Line was entered. By 1979 that judgment amounted to some $4 million. Additionally, bankruptcy proceedings continued on another front. These proceedings blocked the distribution of some $1.2 million in secured claims which would have been paid to Federal Old Line. A settlement was entered into between the Commissioner, as receiver, and those involved in the bankruptcy suit agreed to dismiss their actions against Federal Old Line and the receivership. This settlement accelerates the distribution of funds by the bankruptcy trustee to FOL creditors.

OFFICE OF THE STATE FIRE MARSHAL

ANNUAL REPORT - January 1, 1979 to December 31, 1979

Even while U.S. Senate Subcommittee hearings on arson were in session--a gangland type arson scenario was underway in Pierce County, Washington, (1978-79). Court testimony relating to underworld activities--beatings, attempted murder, widespread arson, fire bombings, and a corrupt law enforcement official could well have been lifted from the subcommittee minutes--yet it all happened right here. Fortunately, the use of arson as an underworld enforcement tool--as in this particular case--was brought to a timely conclusion with the conviction of seven individuals on federal charges of racketeering. We are pleased to report that the on-site investigative work and testimony by the Washington State Fire Marshal's Fire Investigation Division played an important role in the conviction of those involved in this local arson-for-profit scenario.

The Washington State Senate recognized the seriousness of this crime and appointed an "Oversight Committee on Arson" to study the extent of the problem in Washington State. The Committee, chaired by Senator Larry Vognild, in session on November 16, 1979 concluded: "...the first step in controlling arson is the need for a uniform statewide fire incident reporting system..." and, in turn, sponsored Substitute Senate Bill 3385 to make uniform fire reporting mandatory for all fire departments within the state of Washington.

During the current fiscal year (July 1, 1979 - June 30, 1980) the Washington State Fire Marshal's Office prepared to initiate the first phase of a systematic statewide fire reporting system. Key strategies included:

- Acceptance of a $20,000 grant from the United States Fire Administration for the development of a Uniform Statewide Fire Incident Reporting System (WA-FIRS Program).
- The employment of a Program Manager with the specific charge to develop and implement a WA-FIRS Pilot Program.
- Development, printing and distribution of a uniform fire incident code book and related uniform fire incident reporting forms.
- Passage of Substitute Senate Bill 3385 which made uniform fire incident reporting mandatory for all fire departments within the state.

- Selection of 46 Pilot Program fire departments to test and debug the WA-FIRS Program.

- Implement, in cooperation with the Fire Service Training Division a WA-FIRS Training Program for key personnel of the Pilot Program Departments.

- Establish a central fire incident data bank in cooperation with the Washington State Data Processing Service Center.

- Interface the WA-FIRS Program with the National Fire Data Center in Washington, D.C.

- Develop plan for the orderly statewide expansion of the WA-FIRS Program.

The 46 Pilot Program fire departments represented all areas of the state and provided fire protection for approximately one million (25 percent) of the state's four million population.

The first month's fire incident data proved the value of the program in identifying fire problems and fire trends. Solid fuel heating devices were clearly pinpointed as a leading cause of residential fire. With the problems identified, the Fire Marshal's Office responded with a newsletter alerting fire departments, building officials, the wood burning stove industry, insurance companies--and consumers--of potential fire hazard.

Early reports also indicate a high percentage of fires reported as "unknown-cause." This focused attention on the need for more sophisticated training of fire officers and fire-fighters in the initial investigation of fire as well as the identification of fire cause factors.

FIRE INVESTIGATION DIVISION. The Fire Investigation Division consists of a Chief of Investigation and seven investigators. The primary responsibility of the division is the investigation of fines of suspicious, criminal or undetermined origin as reported by local fire officials, police officials or insurance adjusters. The Division also looks into fires that may involve attempts to fraudulently receive funds from an insurance company.

The Division provides assistance upon request in determining the cause of a fire and follows up on the criminal aspects of the investigation in cooperation with local law enforcement agencies and prosecuting attorneys.

The Division monitors reports of fires submitted by fire officials and insurance companies, coordinating their activities and providing notice when patterns of fraud or multiple fires appear.

The Investigation Division assists the other divisions of the office in the investigation of fires in facilities in which the office has regulatory responsibilities and aids various state and federal agencies when investigative expertise is requested.

The Division maintains records on all fires investigated or reported, and provides information and/or training to fire, police or insurance officials in any phase of fire investigation, fire reporting, or related activities.

The Investigation Division administers and enforces the State Fireworks Law.

FIRE INVESTIGATION FUNCTION. All Deputy State Fire Marshals are qualified and experienced in fire cause investigation and perform this function as one of their duties. Those assigned to regulatory inspections investigate fires occurring in facilities subject to their inspection to evaluate the effectiveness of the fire safety rules established by this office. Those assigned to fire investigation as a full-time duty specialize in the investigation of arson and fraud, once the fire has been determined as criminally-caused or there is reason to believe that arson or fraud may be involved. All Deputies are available to provide assistance to local officials in their particular area of expertise in fire investigation.

FIREWORKS REGULATION FUNCTION. The administration and enforcement of the fireworks law is assigned to the Investigation Division and consists of the licensing and regulation of pyrotechnic operators, public fireworks displays, retail fireworks stands, and manufacturers/-wholesalers, importers/exporters. Seizures of contraband fireworks are becoming more frequent as enforcement efforts are increased. However, the seasonal nature of fireworks precludes maintaining an adequate staff to specialize in this function; therefore, the personnel of the entire agency are occasionally used during the fireworks season. An anticipated state law and conflict between it and the Federal Hazardous Substances Act cause a lot of the fireworks' problems. compounded by increased sales activity on Indian reservations, not subject to state regulation.

RESIDENTIAL INSPECTION DIVISION. The Residential Inspection Division provides fire and life safety inspection services for the Department of Social and Health Services. The statutory responsibilities of the State Fire Marshal's Office in the licensing of transient accommodations and child care agencies are met by a team of five field inspectors and a supervisor. The division has statewide responsibility for inspection and approval of such occupancies. During the year, an inspector was assigned to the Spokane Office in addition to personnel at the Seattle and Olympia offices. The additional inspector permitted a statewide reallignment of inspection districts which, in turn, resulted in:

- a reduction of travel time for all inspectors.
- improved delivery of inspection services and client requests.
- improved morale of the inspection staff.
- increased productivity.

The Division maintained a vigorous inspection program to keep pace with the growing number of licensed facilities within the state as indicated in the following table:

TYPE OF LICENSED FACILITY	STATUTORY AUTHORITY	NUMBER LICENSED	INSPECTION FREQUENCY
Transient Accommodations: Hotels, motels, resorts and condominiums offering 3 or more lodging units to transient guests for periods less than one month:	RCW 70.62	1271	Bi-Annual
Child Care Agencies: Day Care Centers/Day Treatment Programs	RCW 74.15	650*	Bi-Annual
Group Care Facilities Group Homes (up to 10 residents); Child Care Institutions (11 residents or more).	RCW 74.15	125	Bi-Annual
Maternity Service Facility	RCW 74.15	31	Bi-Annual

*Does not include Mini-Day Care Centers in private homes. There are approximately 40-50 such facilities at this time.

TRANSIENT ACCOMMODATIONS INSPECTION PROGRAM. A standing policy of the State Fire Marshal's Office requires inspection priority of transient accommodations. The policy is reflected in the total number of inspections logged in the Inspection Recapitulation Chart.

The Transient Accommodations Act, RCW 70.62, unlike other state laws does not require State Fire Marshal approval prior to issuance of a license for such facility. The law, however, requires that the State Fire Marshal "promulgate and enforce" the rules and regulations establishing fire and life safety requirements in such occupancies. This inconsistency, in some instances, caused newly licensed facilities to be posted as "unsafe" immediately following licensing. Such action, of course, causes consternation and conflict between the State Fire Marshal Office and the licensee. A reversal of the current procedure--inspection approval before licensing--would eliminate this problem and serve the best interest of the licensing department, the licensee, and the State Fire Marshal's Office. Furthermore, it will close an unnecessary gap in the fire and life safety protection of the public.

To eliminate this licensing inconsistency, the State Fire Marshal will draft a bill to be introduced at the next legislative session. The text of the proposed bill will require State Fire Marshal approval before a transient accommodation facility may be licensed by the Department of Social and Health Services.

Appeals from licensees aggrieved by the corrective orders of the State Fire Marshal are heard by the Director, Division of State Fire Marshal. The hearings are conducted on an informal basis, providing a realistic forum for the interpretation of building and fire code requirements as well as other life safety regulations. The process appears to be working to the satisfaction of the office as well as licensees involved in such appeals.

CHILD CARE FACILITIES INSPECTION PROGRAM. During the inspection period an overall nine percent statewide increase in the number of child care facilities occurred. This increasing demand for child care facilities is undoubtedly related to the growing number of working mothers. Furthermore, the state's socio-economic climate indicates continued growth in this particular area.

The use of improved inspection guidelines and the dissemination of child care fire and life safety regulations has been and will continue to be an important part of the program. Regulations for each child care category are available to fire and building departments, fire districts, local fire marshals, architects, fire prevention bureaus and child care licensing offices.

Addtional categories that have recently come under the jurisdiction of the Transient Accommodations Inspection Program include:

- Juvenile Detection Facilities.
- Hotels placed on national and/or state historical registers.

In the latter category, the State Fire Marshal Office developed a fire protection handbook designed to assist owner/operators to protect and preserve hotel structures of historical significance.

HEALTH CARE INSPECTION DIVISION--MEDICAL ASSISTANCE SUPPORT TEAM. It is the responsibility of the Fire Marshal's Office under RCW 70.41, 18.51, 18.20 and 17.12 to make certain that all hospitals, nursing homes, boarding homes and private establishments serving the physically and mentally handicapped and those suffering from drug or alcoholic related conditions meet minimum fire and life safety standards. To achieve this objective, the Division, under contract with the Department of Social and Health Services, conducts annual life safety code surveys in approximately 726 licensed facilities throughout the state. Facilities meeting the established life safety codes and inspection approval are eligible for licensing and may also participate in federally sponsored Medicare and Medicaid Programs.

During the year, two new WACs were developed to cover new programs instituted by D.S.H.S.:

WAC 212-42	Residential Treatment Facilities for Psychiatrically Impaired Children and Youth
WAC 212-44	Childbirth Centers

Effective fire and life safety programs must begin with the health care facilities administrator. Only when top management understands and endorses preplanning for such emergencies will effective and continuing programs be developed. Such endorsement will assure that staff personnel can perform effectively in protecting patients from fire or life-threatening hazards when the need arises. This is particularly important when reduced night staff personnel are responsible for the care and safety of many handicapped, nonambulatory patients, including the very young and the elderly.

STATE FIRE MARSHAL PLAN REVIEW

By interagency agreement, the State Fire Marshal provides fire protection plan review and contruction inspection services to the Department of Social and Health Services for such state licensed facilities as hospitals, nursing homes, boarding homes for the aged, and alcoholic treatment facilities.

This service helps to insure that in new and remodeled buildings the applicable state and federal codes and requirements will be met, thus eliminating nonconforming construction resulting in costly delays.

The Deputy State Fire Marshals assigned to this important function have specialized training and experience. They confer with owners, administrators, architects, and engineers in pre-design and pre-construction conferences and as needed throughout the life of the project. They operate under the general supervision of the State Fire Marshal, but receive their assignments from the Department of Social and Health Services. These assignments are then closely coordinated with the other staff consultants in the architectural, engineering, and electrical disciplines.

Field inspections are made through the various stages of construction. Only after final approval of construction does D.S.H.S. consider the facility for licensing.

SUMMARY

The close of calendar year 1979 saw the startup of a uniform fire reporting program; a transient accommodation inspection team strengthened and redeployed throughout the state; a medical assistance support team; developing new WACs as a result of increased public concern; and the continued efforts of a construction plan review team, attempting to solve the fire protection problems in a particular facility before it is built, instead of after.

On the horizon is an anticipated legislative package from the Senate Oversight Committee on Arson attempting to reduce the impact of arson on our state, as documented by the uniform fire reporting program. And, finally, the ongoing commitment to protect the citizens of the state of Washington and our guests from the hazards of fire to life and property was strengthened.
